Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Ancient Use of the Greek Accents in Reading and Chanting: With Some Newly Restored Greek Melodies This rule was not only used by Greeks in speaking the language of their time, but was a rule of pronunciation common both to the Greek and Latin languages, so that there was no need of special instruction in that particular, whether the persons to be instructed were Greeks or foreigners. The accents were devised to show exceptions to the general rule, and to point out those syllables in a word which required a stress to be laid upon them which the general rule would not meet. The general rule of the Greek pronunciation rests upon the principle common to all languages, that a stress of voice is succeeded by an unaccented syllable. Thus in English, when we use monosyllables, we use alternate positions for the accents, as in it came to pass. In long words such as in understanding, handkerchief, the same rule holds good, nor docs the rule alter when we use foreign words, such as...
